PENILETTES.

Major John R. Davis, father-in-law of Gov. A. S. Marks, died near Winchester, his home, on Friday, November 23d, aged 60 years.

The fight between the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and Louisville and Nashville railroads culminated in the filing of a bill in the United States circuit court at Nashville by the minority stockholders of the former against the latter, and they ask Judge Baxter to appoint a receiver.

The Chattanooga Times of Thursday says: "Gen. Jim Brownlow, son of Parson Brownlow, of Tennessee, has been appointed to a $1,600 clerkship in the postoffice department." For a former Knoxville boy, Brother Ochs displays a wonderful ignorance of Knoxville affairs. President Death doesn't have any $1,600 clerkships to offer.

THE SCRUGGS TRAGEDY.

Continuation of the Inquest—The Foul Play Theory Still Discredited.

Coroner A. S. Hudburg reassembled his jury of inquest Saturday morning over the body of R. J. Scruggs, Esq., who met with such a terrible and tragic death while going home, four miles below the city, as detailed by us. Such other witnesses as could be obtained were summoned and examined in order to throw all the light possible on the case, inasmuch as rumors of foul play had been set afloat in the city Friday. The jury have not yet rendered their final verdict, but adjourned over till Tuesday next.

There seems to be still suspicions in the minds of some, but the further evidence adduced is regarded by most of those conversant with the facts as conclusive that there could have been no foul play or murder, under all the circumstances. It was developed that Scruggs was seen driving at a rapid gait a short distance this side of the creek, beyond which he was first discovered dragging under the wagon. One theory is that in going down the hill to the creek he had either stepped out to unrein his mule to let him drink, or had pitched over the dash board by some means. His hat was found almost directly in front of the gate at Mrs. Rodgers' place, and that is evidently where he first fell out. From all the evidence brought out by an examination of the ground the mule must certainly have wandered back and forth in the road for some time, and the body was doubtless hanging to the wagon when seen by Rufe Alley as he passed down the road with the bus, but his eye did not fall on it.

A murderer would not have chosen so open a place, so near a residence, for such a deed, and, besides, the theory of plunder is exploded by the fact that a certificate of deposit in bank for $300, a $10 bill, a $5 bill and some silver change to the amount of about two dollars was found on his person. The wounds also can all be accounted for by the dragging over rocks and kicking of the mule.

The funeral of Esq. Scruggs took place at his residence Saturday evening, quite a number of persons going out from the city.

To trifle with a severe cough or cold is certainly trifling with one's health. We advise all to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

Personal.

Miss Kate Claxton, the renowned actress, was among the distinguished personages aboard yesterday morning's western bound train. She was enroute to Mexico.

Mr. Wood Bowyer left yesterday for Hawkinsville, Ga., to engage in business with his brother.

Chattanooga Times, Sunday: Mr. Will Baxter and bride, nee Miss Kirkman, arrived in the city last night from Cincinnati, and are at Dr. Baxter's.

Miss Ora Miller, of Knoxville, and Mrs. Armstrong, of Nashville, who attended the wedding of Wm. Baxter, Esq., at Nashville, a few days ago, arrived in the city yesterday. Miss Miller will remain here a few days longer. Mrs. Armstrong left for Knoxville last night.

Mr. Fred A. Miller is now located at the Jewelry store of H. W. Curtis, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

Mr. Robt. Vestal, the clothier, returned yesterday morning from New York, where he has purchased the largest and most attractive stock of over coats ever seen in this city. Mr. Vestal has had sufficient experience in clothing to know when to strike. He has purchased at the right time and gets them here at the right time, and his prices will be such as to fit every man's purse.

Mr. Andrew J. Wierick, of Pulaski county, Ind., father-in-law of Capt. W. A. Harper, our chief of police, and a patron of the Whig and Chronicle, is in the city on a visit, and paid us a call yesterday.

Mr. Wm. F. Patrick, of Leadville, Col., is in the city, looking after his interest in the Knoxville marble company, and other business, perhaps.

Mr. T. H. Ford, a printer, well known in Knoxville, arrived Sunday night from Huntsville, Ala. He is in very bad health, and went over yesterday evening to Maryville to recuperate.

Casper Weitzell, Officer No. 10, Lancaster, Pa., having been a great sufferer for years with Kidney disease, requests us to say that after using DAW'S KIDNEY PAD 25 days he feels better than he has before in fifteen years.

The Greene County Tragedy.

CANEY BRANCH, TENN., Nov. 25th, 1880.

MR. EDITOR: Mr. Ambrose J. Easterly met a horrible death, near his home, on the evening of the 23d inst. It seems he had got off his mule to open a gate, when his foot became entangled with the gearing and the mule started and ran and dragged its victim several hundred yards. When caught life was perfectly extinct. Mr. Easterly leaves a wife and several children, besides an innumerable number of friends and relatives to mourn his loss. In fact, wherever truth, honesty, industry, merit esteem his death will be deplored.

The immense crowd at his burial fully attests the respect of his fellow-citizens.

Eminent Dr. Benj. H. Riggs, Selma, Ala., writes: "Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is an excellent preparation, whose composition is known and one that physicians can intelligently prescribe. I have found it great service in my practice."

RAILROAD NEWS.

Knoxville and Augusta Survey—The Tennessee Portion Completed.

The party of civil engineers who have been making a survey of the Knoxville and Augusta railroad from the state line to Maryville, reached the city on yesterday's Maryville train and took rooms at the Atkin house. The party consists of Col. W. S. Larendon, H. B. Gwin, and J. C. Sage, of Atlanta, Ga.; E. H. Acken, S. F. Headen, of Gainesville, Ga.; J. J. Gaillard, of Griffin, Ga.; and J. K. Jones, of Fort Madison, S. C. Mr. Sage is accompanied by his wife.

A CHRONICLE representative had a brief conversation with Col. Larendon, the chief engineer, as to the outlines, prospects, etc. They have been engaged at the survey since about the first of July, starting out from the Georgia line at Rabun Gap. The line touches near Montvale springs. The party reached Maryville Friday, thus completing their field work, but have got to make their figures. They have had some rough mountain experience, but obtained a remarkably easy route, considering the mountainous condition of the country. They follow the river most all the way, and thus obtain a very easy grade, and a good bed for the road. As to the figures, distances, etc., Col. Larendon was not prepared to give them until he has performed some work on them. Another party of engineers have been also engaged in the survey of the Georgia side of the line. This, of course, means business, and it will not be a great while before work will be commenced on this one of the most important of Knoxville's projected railroads. The party expected to leave on the western bound train this morning.

THE EMORY GAP ROUTE.

Maj. W. A. Gunn, chief engineer of the Knoxville and Cincinnati Southern road, by Emory Gap, returned Friday night from a trip of a few days to Cincinnati. The benefit of Maj. Gunn's survey, and his views, while in Cincinnati, have been furnished through the columns of the CHRONICLE. A Chattanooga Times representative held an interesting interview with the Major as he came through there, and he expressed about the same views as have been published by us. Emory Gap prospects are booming.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right, take Hop Bitters. Nunda News.

Ford's Comedy Company.

Mr. E. S. Davidson, advance agent, was in the city yesterday arranging for the appearance at Staub's opera house next week of the renowned and favorite Jno. T. Ford's Comedy Company, in a programme of u-excelled amusement. They will appear Thursday and Friday night, instead of as announced heretofore, and we expect to see them do a successful business. This is one of the best companies for fun and amusement on the road, and they are popular all over the south. The company consists of fifteen beautiful women and ten men. They will put on the first night "Fun on the Pacific," and the second, "Lady of Lyons." In this latter, Miss Carrie Walker, a Nashville girl, who possesses special stage attractions, assumes a leading role, that of "Pauline." The company had quite an ovation in Nashville last week. The American says of them:

"Fun on the Pacific" was given last night by Mr. Ford's company. The piece was different in many respects from what it was last season, and the changes seem to be for the better. Much of the music is new, and all of it pretty and taking. The play misses the excellent comedy work of George Denham, although Mr. Robert proved an acceptable substitute. Miss Stiemler, who has a rare gift of beauty and vivacity, was received with great favor, and sang the "Widow Dunn" charmingly. Among the other hits of the evening were Miss Bockel's song from the "Pirates," Miss Thompson's "The Horsehoe from the Door," Miss Eva Cole's dancing, and Mrs. Robert's songs, each of which made the audience enthusiastic, and was loudly encored.

Prof. Joyce's Lecture.

In the lecture room of the German church on Thursday night was listened to by a very large audience, considering the state of the weather without and the many counter attractions within doors. The lecture itself was listened to with deep attention and was highly interesting not only on account of the nature of the subject, but chiefly on account of the very clear presentation of the matter and the startling facts which it brought to light; and which are none too well known even by well educated people. The thoroughly German character of the best part of the English language, and of all of its grammar, was set in a very clear light and was a revelation most gratifying to the Germans especially. It is a pity the intelligence and culture of Knoxville was not more represented largely.

Nothing to Lose.

What inducement can a counterfeiter have to produce anything good or reliable? He has no reputation and nothing to lose, and if he can make up anything cheap that he can get money out of, what cares he whether it does harm or not? Any one who will resort to substituting, counterfeiting or imitating so as to steal from the reputation of another will not do to be trusted, certainly in making medicine for the sick. Such is the action of several adventurers who imitate, substitute or claim some medical cure to take the place of Simmons' Liver Regulator. They would steal its reputation. Are these the kind of people you want to make your physician or sell you medicine? Beware of all such and their nostrums! Do not touch anything but the genuine, which is in White Wrapper, and has the red letter Z and Mortar in the front, and is made by J. H. Zellin & Co.

Closing Exercises of Mechanicsville School.

The school taught by Messrs. A. E. T. Draper and William Lillison, in the colored school house, Mechanicsville, closed on the 26th inst., with an interesting exhibition at night. The exercises were opened with prayer by Mr. F. J. Batton, followed with appropriate music. The exhibition consisted of declamations, dialogues, etc. The solo of Miss Susie A. Franklin was well rendered. After the closing of the exhibition the audience was favored with an admirable address by Mr. S. B. Maples, of the Freshmen class, Knoxville college. Prof. Wallace, of the above institution, was next introduced, and addressed the audience in a few well chosen remarks suited to the occasion. The singing was excellent, the Misses Gay presiding at the organ. Before the audience was dismissed Mr. Draper read a communication from President McCulloch, saying that the faculty of Knoxville College had decided to give two scholarships to any two students who had been the most proficient in deportment, attendance, etc., during the school session. The teachers, Messrs. Draper and Lillison, deserve much credit for their labors in Mechanicsville school.
